Implementation Detail of Discount

The reviewer needs to make detailed evaluation and recommendations on the requirements part. Editorial board qualification will be cancelled, if review form does not meet the requirements multiple times.

We provide 20% discount for every paper reviewed i.e. whenever the reviewer attempts to publish an original work in our journal, he/she gets 20% discount of the publication fee. This Discount is accumulative i.e. if the reviewer reviews five papers, he/she will get 100% discount of the publication fee of his/her next paper published in our journal.

The Discount is not transferable i.e. it can only be used by the owner, and it is best to intimate it to the journal editor along with the manuscript, no later than the payment, not available after payment. However, the Discount is still valid and can be used next time.

Add modification explanation of the author along with the revised manuscript, which describes the changed details according to the recommendations of the review form. At least one reviewer will be invited to review again.
